This announcement that the government would construct a dam at the outlet of Sandy Lake in Aitkin county, the present summer, is looked upon with considerable alarm by the lumbermen as the dam is to be without logs and would result in closing the lake to navigation and the damage to loggers would be great. Numerous letters have been received and are being forwarded to headquarters.

The Journal believes the fact that the republicans have seen fit to put up a ticket for the coming election and claims it is a trick in the interests of one or two politicians. The state of affairs is in horrible shape so to speak at the same time. Bro. Shivers fails to make mention that half a dozen democrats met in Dr. Hemstedt's office and put up the opposition ticket which is claimed to be "independent" but which is the name of the game only, and stands on one too. It is peculiar how things happen.

Brainerd Dispatch.

INGERSOLL & WELAND, Publishers.
BRainerd, MINN.

BEN BUTLER predicts another war and intimates that he is ready to volunteer again as a major general. Is Ben getting short of spoons.

LYDIA THOMPSON, the antique burlesque, observes that the American people like tight on the stage. That's just where they like them, Miss Lydia, and just where we get them. The police interfere with tight in the street.

A YANKEE has just invented a nitro-glycerine shell that can be thrown ten miles from a cannon with ordinary powder. This, it is suggested, is likely to have a very conservative effect upon the present raging and rampaging Italian bellicosity.

THERE is one good thing about the "deadlock" in the Senate over a proposed drag-net partisan investigation of the canals; it will reduce the chances—if any exist—of the passage of the bills to grab Battery and City Hall Parks for corporation purposes.

The following anonymous advertisement, evidently written in good faith, appeared recently in a West coast paper: "I want to let my furnished house shootable for legions or any other mon. And if it does not shoot the legation, can shoot himself else where. Apply to."

AMERICANS who are shocked by occasional revelations of wickedness in public life in their own country find some relief in a perusal of the disgraceful stories and official household of Great Britain. America is 1/10th but England is unspeakably 1/10th.

MRS. LIVERMORE may be correct in her assertion that the women object to the use of tobacco by men, even though they do not complain. If such be the case, they are largely at fault for their discomfort. No gentleman uses tobacco in the presence of a lady without first obtaining her permission to do so.

A MAN in Lansing, Mich., having languished 33 years in prison for murder, is now released, a helpless and pitiable wreck, his innocence proved. The State has pardoned him, but who shall pardon the State, which now refuses to support him because the records are lost?

GERMANY has her grain corners as well as America. It appears that her business is not quite so successful as here, however, for it is announced that if the members of a corn ring recently formed at Berlin are discovered they will be expelled from the house.

A WOMAN named White of Mount Holly, N. J., has just died after an illness of more than thirty years, during which her physician visited her 100,950 times. A good many people would lose confidence in a doctor after seven or eight thousand visits, but Mrs. White is evidently the proprietress of one of those patient, trusting natures we read about.

WHEN Uncle Sam reads the bushels of letters addressed to the war department offering services of the writers in the event of war with Italy, he feels a thrill of honest pride in his boys, both the old and the young. Patriotism is a strong and vigorous sentiment in the United States, in spite of the commercial spirit that otherwise rules the land.

THE British government does not propose to have the Chilean nitrate price closed off by the United States and have notified him. Most of the nitre used in the manufacture of gunpowder come from those beds, and their closure for any great length of time would be a great calamity to the "civilized" world which needs so much of the article for the purpose of bulldozing its neighbors.

GEORGE W. WILLIAMS, the colored orator, has visited Africa and makes a serious charge against Mr. Stanley. Williams accuses Stanley of using an electric battery to convince the natives that the white man was powerful as their gods. The next thing Stanley knows some one will accuse him of employing medical skill to demonstrate to the natives that he was superior to their medicine men.

A BUTCHER of Seymour, Ind., is said to have found in the stomach of a slaughterer a silver half-dollar, several small bones, a lot of needles and pins and a quarter of a pound of iron nails. But a more remarkable discovery was that made by a servant in a St. Louis restaurant. While he was opening clams the other day there dropped from one of the bivalves a gold ring inscribed "S. S. to R. S." The clams had been purchased from a New York house and were gathered from the ocean bed near Fire Island.

M. PAUL CRAMPEL, a French explorer, has given an account of the Bagayas, a pigmy race, inhabiting the great forests north of Ogawa, who appear to be related to the Wambutis of Stanley's expedition. They live among the M'angs, to whom they are in a measure subject. The Bagayas hunt ivory for the M'angs, and receive manioc and bananas in exchange. The M'angs are about 5 to 9 inches to 6 feet high, whereas the Bagayas are 4 to 7 inches.

PROF. C. A. L. TOTTE, of Yale, has finished his computations based on biblical truths, and stakes his reputation on the prophecy that the second coming of the Messiah will occur before the year 1896. He says, however, he doesn't anticipate the end of the world before the expiration of a million years or so. The coming of the Messiah, he says, will simply make the world better, as his previous ad did. It is doubtful whether his reception will be more cordial than the sound fatalistic belief which he holds in his back. He says he was once crystallized systems of theology.

J. C. Congdon is not selling wall paper below cost, but he is selling it cheaper than any other house west of St. Paul.

A SURE WINNER.

The Republicans in Convention nominate a Strong City Ticket.

M. Hagberg Will be Brainerd's Next Mayor.

The republican city convention was called to order at the hose house on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock by A. J. Halsted who read the call. The ballot for temporary chairman resulted in the election of John T. Frater, A. E. Pennell being chosen as secretary. Mr. Frater on taking his seat made a few very appropriate remarks in which he stated that for the first time in the history of the city the republicans had deemed it advisable to draw party lines in the city administration, and while some doubted the advisability he thought that the time had come when some action should be taken. In almost every other city of any importance one party or the other was responsible for the good or ill government and in Brainerd the result would be as beneficial as elsewhere.

After the chairman had finished his remarks a motion was made and carried that a committee on credentials be appointed by the chair, and in accordance W. E. Entriiken, R. H. Paine, Geo. Hastings and C. H. Douglas were appointed. The committee reported the following gentlemen entitled to seats in the convention:

First Ward—C. H. Douglas, A. J. Pennell, Chas. Hagberg and J. E. Howe, Jr.

Second Ward—J. T. Frater, S. H. Parker, Fred Lowe, W. E. Entriiken and Earl Hawley.

Fourth Ward—Geo. Hastings, John Falconer and Solomon Johnson.

Fifth Ward—R. H. Paine, Iver Benson and N. Heller.

The Third Ward was without representation.

The report was adopted and the temporary organization was made permanent.

Nominations for mayor were declared to be in order and C. H. Douglas placed the name of M. Hagberg before the convention. A. J. Halsted was nominated by Geo. Hastings, but Mr. Hagberg being present declined the nomination, and on motion M. Hagberg was nominated by acclamation.

The name of L. P. Johnson was placed before the convention for city treasurer by John Falconer, and R. H. Paine by Chas. Hagberg. Mr. Paine declining and the convention nominated Mr. Johnson by acclamation.

C. E. Chipfield was unanimously nominated for municipal judge on motion of Solomon Johnson.

For assessor the name of John Falconer was presented to the convention by M. H. Parker, J. J. Howe, Jr., N. Heller and Chas. Hagberg. The result of the vote was nine for Falconer and six for Breheny, and the former was declared to be the nominee.

The chair was instructed to appoint a central committee which is announced elsewhere. A. J. Halsted addressed the convention in a few well chosen words, in his capacity as president of the Young Men's Republican Club, after which the convention adjourned.

Old Fellows' Anniversary.

The 72nd anniversary of the founding of Odd Fellowship was duly celebrated in this city by an entertainment at their hall on Monday evening, about 400 people being in attendance. A musical programme, highly entertaining, was given, and speeches by Rev. J. W. Frizzell and Rev. J. A. Jenkins followed which were listened to with interest. Tables were spread the entire length of the hall, and all set down to a sumptuous supper. The entertainment was one which will long be remembered by those who were so fortunate as to be in attendance.

Wm. Durham took position of the post-office this morning, it having been turned over to him by Inspector Childs.

MATTED.

ECKMAN—CARLSON—In this city, April 28th, 1891, by Rev. O. J. Wagnild, Mr. Charles Eckman and Miss Mary Carlson, both of Aitkin county.

Below Zero.

The People's theatre was comfortably filled last evening with an audience which laughed itself hoarse at the numerous funny sayings and doings of Rentrow's Jolly Pathfinders, who opened a week's engagement in the laughable farce-comedy, "Below Zero." The piece is constructed on much the same plan as all farce-comedies, but it has the beauty of having introduced into it several new features. J. N. Rentrow, Jr., was original and refreshing, and was good for a laugh every time he spoke. L. J. Farrell made an excellent Irish comedian, and H. F. Adams, as Henry Meek, the covetous husband, was as full of humor as could well be imagined. In addition the amusement in the regular run of the play specialise were introduced which were very entertaining.—Toledo Blade.

This company will appear at the opera house on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, May 5th and 6th. Prices 75, 50 and 35 cents.

Annual Tournament.

At a meeting of the directors of the Brainerd Gun Club on Wednesday evening of last week, it was decided to hold the third annual tournament on Wednesday and Thursday, June 17th and 18th, and arranged a programme as follows:

FIRST DAY.

No. 1. Nine single birds, entrance fee $1.50.

No. 2. Six singles and two pair, entrance fee $1.50.

No. 3. Twelve single birds, entrance fee $2. Guaranteed purse of $25, divided into four equal monies.

No. 4. Seven singles, entrance fee $2.00.

AFTERNOON.

No. 1. Fifteen single birds, entrance fee $1.50.

No. 2. A mixed purse of $50, entrance fee $2.50. Five singles and two pair.

No. 3. Three pair, entrance fee $1.50.

No. 4. Seven singles wild, entrance fee $1.50.

SECOND DAY.

No. 1. Ten singles, entrance fee $1.50.

No. 2. Three pair, entrance fee $1.50.

No. 3. Guaranteed purse of $25, entrance fee $1.50. Seven singles.

No. 4. Nine singles, entrance fee $1.00.

AFTERNOON.

No. 1. Twelve singles, entrance fee $1.50.

No. 2. Guaranteed purse of $50, entrance fee $2.50. Four equal monies. Seven singles.

No. 3. Ten singles, entrance fee $2.50.

No. 4. Walking match, five singles, entrance fee $1.

The money in all shoots will be divided into 40, 30, 20 and 10 per cent, unless otherwise stated.

Cash prizes will also be offered as follows:

First average, $15.00; second, $10; third, $5.00; fourth, $3.00; fifth, $2.

In addition to these prizes there will be separate prizes for first and second day's averages. The club expects to have one of the best tournaments given in Minnesota this season and already a large number of sportsmen from abroad have signified their intention of being present.

Anaglypta is an English sanitary wall covering, and it is proving a very great decorative success, and is particularly adapted for use in residences, halls and dining rooms, at Congdon's.

Killed Himself.

On the first of December last a railroad fireman named Harry Ball started from Staples to come to the Brainerd Sanitarium, he being ill with typhoid fever. Some three weeks after his brother came to Brainerd to see him and was surprised when he learned that he had never put in an appearance. It was supposed at that time that he had got off the train in his delirium and had wandered off into the woods and died. The country round was scoured, but no trace was found of him until yesterday when his body was discovered near Philbrook, on the cut-off, some six miles from Staples. The body was lying beside a stream with a bullet hole through the neck and a revolver by his side where he had dropped it after the fatal shot had been fired. It was a case of suicide.

D. W. Whitford has a very fine line of harness goods, also nets, robes, dusters, whips, etc. All at bed-rock prices.

Jolly Pathfinders.

Rentrow's Comedy Company opened at the week last evening at the Whitey Grand in the three act farce, "Below Zero," written by Chas. R. Sweet. It goes without saying, that any comedy written by Mr. Sweet is good, and the rendition of it, in most respects, was satisfactory. If one may judge by the laughter and applause of the audience, which accompanied the performance from first to last, it was eminently so. The acting of J. N. Rentrow, Jr., as Arnold Grab; F. W. Stillman as Henry Adams; Richard A. Coleman, as Teddy McGinty; Miss Lottie Walters, as Kate Klover, and Mrs. Rentrow, as Amelia Antique Hamilton, was of a high class of its kind; that of some of them beyond reproach. In the first act Fred D. Lincier and Miss Helia Archbure rendered a mandolin and guitar duet which was exquisite, as was also the performance, on musical glasses by Miss Helia Hayden in the second act. There are many comic situations and amusing contortions during the evening, which excite roars of laughter and rounds of applause. The recitation of a short parody on Poe's "Raven," by Mr. Stillman, was inimitable. Miss Walters, besides being a good little actress, has a very sweet voice as a singer, and is a good dancer. Songs, dances and gags that are fresh, are plentifully scattered throughout the piece and add to an enjoyable variety.—Detroit Evening Sun, Aug. 26, '90.

At the opera house for two nights only, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 5th and 6th. The opening bill on Tuesday evening will be the three act farce-comedy, entitled "Below Zero." On Wednesday evening, "Two Old Chums." Prices 75, 50 and 35 cents.

A Brainerd Boy's Luck.

R. H. K. Whiteley, who has been connected with the Times since its establishment, has resigned his position to accept the night editorship of the Detroit Tribune. Mr. Whiteley is well liked in newspaper circles, and he takes with him a reputation for faithful and competent work.—Minneapolis Times.

Mr. Whiteley is a son of County Surveyor Whiteley, and has many friends here who will be pleased to hear of his good luck.

A Fine Institution.

Frank Adeock is much pleased with the treatment and attention he received during his two weeks stay at the N. P. Sanitarium in Brainerd. He returned from there last week and says it is an institution in which the railroad employees may well take pride. The place should be (and probably is) nothing to which they contribute more cheerfully the small amount which is necessary to maintain it.—Presto Change.

LYDIA THOMPSON, the antique buresquer, observes that the American people like tights on the stage. That's just where they like them, Miss Lydia, and just where we get them. The police interfere with tights in the street.

A YANKEE has just invented a nitro-glycerine shell that can be thrown ten miles from a cannon with ordinary powder. This, it is suggested, is likely to have a very conservative effect upon the present raging and rampaging Italian belligerency.

THERE is one good thing about the "deadlock" in the Senate over a proposed drag-net partisan investigation of the canals; it will reduce the chances of any exist- of the passage of the bills to grab Battery and City Hall Parks for corporation purposes.

The following amusing advertisement, evidently written in good faith, appeared recently in a West coast paper: "I want to let my furnished house shootable for legations or any other man. And if it does not shoot the legation, can shoot himself else where. Apply to—"

AMERICANS who are shocked by occasional revelations of wickedness in public life in their own country find some relief in a perusal of the disgraceful stories which find the light in the royal and official household of Great Britain. America is I thought but England is unspeakably wicked.

MRS. LIVERMORE may be correct in her assertion that the women object to the use of tobacco by men, even though they do not complain. If such be the case, they are largely at fault for their discomfort. No gentleman uses tobacco in the presence of a lady without first obtaining her permission to do so.

A MAN in Lansing, Mich., having languished 33 years in prison for murder, is now released, a helpless and pitiable wreck, his innocence proved. The State has pardoned him, but who shall pardon the State, which now refuses to support him because the records are lost?

GERMANY has her grain corners as well as America. It appears that the business is not quite so successful as here, however, for it is announced that if the members of a consular court recently formed at Berlin discovered they will be expelled from the house.

A WOMAN named White of Mount Holly, N. J., has just died after an illness which a physician visited her 10, 950 times. A good many people would lose confidence in a doctor after seven or eight thousand visits, but Mrs. White is evidently the proprietress of one of those patient, trusting natures we read about.

When Uncle Sam reads the bushels of letters addressed to the war department offering the services of the writers in the event of war with Italy, he feels that if the members of his boys, both the old and the young, are in a strong and vigorous sentiment in the United States, in spite of the commercial spirit that otherwise rules the land.

The British government does not propose to have the Chilean nitrate ports closed off-hand by Balmaceda, and have notified him. Most of the nitre used in the manufacture of gunpowder come from these beds, and their closure for any great length of time would be a great calamity to the "civilized" world which needs so much of the article for the purpose of bulldozing its neighbors.

GEORGE W. WILLIAMS, the colored orator, has visited Africa and makes serious charges against Mr. Stanley. Williams says that Stanley was an electric battery to convince the natives that the white man was powerful as their gods. The next thing Stanley knews some one will accuse him of employing medical skill to demonstrate to the natives that he is superior to their medicine men.

A BUTCHER of Seymour, Ind., is said to have found in the stomach of a slaughtered cow a silver half-dollar, several small bones, a lot of needles and pins and a quarter of a pound of iron nails. But a more remarkable discovery was that made by a servant in a St. Louis restaurant. While he was cleaning up the kitchen he discovered an electric battery to convince the natives that the white man was powerful as their gods. WHEN Uncle Sam reads the bushels of letters addressed to the war department offering the services of the writers in the event of war with Italy, he feels that if the members of his boys, both the old and the young, are in a strong and vigorous sentiment in the United States, in spite of the commercial spirit that otherwise rules the land.

The British government does not propose to have the Chilean nitrate ports closed off-hand by Balmaceda, and have notified him. Most of the nitre used in the manufacture of gunpowder come from these beds, and their closure for any great length of time would be a great calamity to the "civilized" world which needs so much of the article for the purpose of bulldozing its neighbors.

GEORGE W. WILLIAMS, the colored orator, has visited Africa and makes serious charges against Mr. Stanley. Williams says that Stanley was an electric battery to convince the natives that the white man was powerful as their gods. The next thing Stanley knews some one will accuse him of employing medical skill to demonstrate to the natives that he is superior to their medicine men.

A BUTCHER of Seymour, Ind., is said to have found in the stomach of a slaughtered cow a silver half-dollar, several small bones, a lot of needles and pins and a quarter of a pound of iron nails. But a more remarkable discovery was that made by a servant in a St. Louis restaurant. While he was cleaning up the kitchen he discovered an electric battery to convince the natives that the white man was powerful as their gods. The next thing Stanley knews some one will accuse him of employing medical skill to demonstrate to the natives that he is superior to their medicine men.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, April 30.—Runners were in Wall street this afternoon of a defalcation in the Ninth National bank, which does business at 40 Broadway.

National Bank Examiner Hepburn, who was closeted with the officers of the Ninth National bank and a committee from the clearing house, during the evening made the following statement:

"An examination of the Ninth National bank, of the city of New York, of $400,000 capital, to its former president, while the bank was in liquidation, has shown that the bank's solvency, nor its ability to take care of its customers."

The bank was organized in 1864 with $1,000,000 capital. This was reduced four years ago to $700,000.

The president referred to was John T. Hill, who died March last of consumption. He was only a few days away from the directors' meeting when the defalcation began. The directors, who were in the city, had been made by misappropriation of its funds by its late president, extending over a period of several years.
